A lightweight app that lets you alter the DNS servers of a network adapter The country of origin is not specified, which is probably why it has only four user ratings on the Store. Change DNS Helper Portable Crack is a small piece of software that enables you to alter the DNS servers employed by your network adapter so that you can decrease the loading time of websites or improve online browsing. Comes with an intuitive and easy to navigate GUI After a straightforward setup, you are welcomed by a small interface that includes only a few features. Although relatively tiny, the UI is clean and user-friendly, so it is unlikely that you could encounter any issues. The interface is comprised of two tabs, one that includes the features to change your DNS and another where you can access various network tools, including but not limited to ping test, speed test, remote IP address or resetting the TCP/IP stack. Allows you to modify the DNS server seamlessly You will be glad to learn that the process of changing the DNS server is quick and easy. To put it simple, you can specify the network adapter, the Internet Protocol version and then choose one of the various DNS servers available. It is worth mentioning that the program includes several types of servers, so you pick on depending on your needs. Therefore, if you are looking to access websites that are known for containing malware, you can choose a security server. Respectively, if you want to block access to particular sites with inappropriate content, you can opt a server with the Family label, for instance. On a side note, the app cannot find the fastest DNS server automatically and hence, you need to try them all until you find one that can provide you with speed improvements. A useful tool for managing online browsing In case you want to overpass web censorship, enjoy the benefits of security features that have not been implemented by your ISP's DNS servers or make sure your children do not end up on websites that could have a negative impact on them, then you can consider giving Change DNS Helper Portable a try. I am not an expert but from what I know of internet protocols, DNS simply gives your computer a phonebook of sorts, a list of IP's, associated with the domain name you are searching for. Maybe it's because of this the DNS list is hard to update. As an example, if you type google.com in the address bar, it should bring you to google.com. However, it doesn't as those servers are registered in 3a67dffeec

A : It's because when you are opening change dns helper it needs to set up the settings. After the settings are set up if you close the application at any point, and try to run the application again the connections are closed again because the application doesn't know what you changed and by default the application tries to use the settings that were present when the change dns helper was installed. Q : How can I see what DNS servers Change DNS Helper Portable are using? A : First of all please download and install Netwrix DNS server manager for this you need to right click on change dns helper and select Local DNS settings Q : How can I make sure that all my applications are able to access the Internet? A : It's a big issue nowadays that we are living in a high network area that's why most of the applications are asking you to configure some thing like that. Q : What is these option? A : Blocking an IP address The program uses Netwrix DNS server manager to access the various DNS servers that you have configured. Now, if you decide to block an IP address, then the program won't allow you to go the websites that are served by that particular IP address. Mysterious IP addresses (non-NAMED protocol address) Many programs that we use to connect to the Internet requires that we provide a DNS name and an IP address. The problem with this is that the IP address usually changes quite often. Now, this is where the DNS named protocol is really great as it allows you to use a random DNS name and the program will convert it to an IP address that you can use to connect to the Internet. However, if you are not sure whether you are giving the correct IP address or not, then you can simply use the DNS named protocol to access the Internet. Recovery from DNS server issues
